Journal Proceedings

FIRST DAY

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1932

The Holston Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, convened in its one hundred and ninth session, in our Munsey Memorial Church, Johnson City, Tenn., Wednesday, October 5, 1932, at 9 o'clock a. m., with Bishop William N. Ainsworth presiding. Hymn 222, "Jesus the name high over all," was sung. Bishop Ainsworth led in prayer, after which he read from a musty volume of the Book of Discipline of American Methodism of 1808, wherein it questioned the young preachers as to their habits of living and serving in the itinerant ministry.

IMPRESSIVE.—The secretary of the last annual session was called to the platform by Bishop Ainsworth, who then had the Conference stand at attention while the secretary called the names of those who had died during the year: D. P. Hurley, J. T. Frazier, Thomas Priddy, B. C. Wilson, Walter Hodge, C. E. Steele, L. W. McFarland, Mrs. E. H. Yankee, Mrs. A. H. Clark, Mrs. E. W. Mort. The Conference, still standing, with bowed heads and mist-filled eyes, listened to the plaintively sweet words of "Safe in the arms of Jesus," sung by Mrs. Wilson Barker and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth, at the request of Bishop Ainsworth. The names of these deceased persons were then referred to the committee on Memoirs.

ORGANIZATION.—James A. Burrow was re-elected secretary, with J. F. Benton, E. A. Shugart and J. E. Wolfe, assistants; D. Trigg James, A. V. Rudy and M. S. Kincheloe statistical secretaries, and the following staff of district assistants: Abingdon—A. S. Clear, A. V. Rudy; Big Stone Gap—C. A. Hillman, W. M. Seymour; Bluefield—J. R. Belcher, W. S. Barbery; Chattanooga—H. D. Hart, W. B. Peck; Knoxville—D. A. Warner, T. L. Williams; Morristown—C. E. Wilson, E. T. Gilmer; Radford—J. T. Browning, C. W. Taylor; Sweetwater—G. B. McCrary, W. M.

Dean, Tazewell—Neil McKinnon, Courtland Joroulmon; Wytheville—C. B. Dickenson, S. L. Payne.

The hour for meeting was fixed at 9 o'clock each morning; for adjournment, 12:30 o'clock. The Conference "bar" was made to include all of the main church auditorium.

Roll Call.—Bishop Ainsworth explained his way of securing a record of members present without the formal roll call. Printed cards were distributed, properly filled in, and, in due time, were returned to the secretary's table, with the following persons reporting present:

Clerical.—R. L. Parks, R. W. Watts, J. H., Lotspeich, J. C. Clark, S. W. Hayne, S. C. Beard, A. M. Qualls, R. T. McDowell, A. S. Clear, R. E. Early, G. A. Maiden, E. E. Wiley, T. J. Eskridge, I. P. Hamilton moved that the committee be asked to report a verdict at this session. Bishop Ainsworth ruled the motion out of order, read the law of our Discipline showing that a continuation of a committee in such cases was an established order. He directed the presiding elder of the Bluefield District, J. A. Burrow, to take the matter in hand and push the investigation to as early a conclusion as possible after Conference. Transfers.—The following resolution was read by I. P. Martin:

Whereas it is a matter of common knowledge that there is great difficulty in making appointments of preachers to charges in Holston Conference; and

Whereas it is commonly believed that this condition has been increased, if not produced, by the transfer of a large number of preachers from other Conferences, and by the manner of exchanging of transfers; and, further, by the manner of appointment of those transfers for whom no exchange is found; and

Whereas serious dissatisfaction has arisen among the preachers of Holston Conference, which threatens its usefulness as well as its peace and harmony; therefore:

Resolved, 1st. That the District Conference of the Knoxville District does hereby petition and request the Bishop who shall make the appointments in Holston Conference in this year, 1932, that he take immediate steps to relieve the crowding and congestion which has arisen from the bringing of transfers into Holston Conference.

Resolved, 2nd. That we respectfully request and petition the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that they give serious and careful consideration to the situation in Holston Conference so as, if possible, to find a means of securing relief to Holston Conference without harm to any of the preachers who may be involved.

Resolved, 3rd. That we memorialize Holston Conference, asking that the above resolution or others of a similar nature be passed at its session in 1932.

The above paper was adopted by the Knoxville District Conference.

I. P. Martin, P. E.

J. A. Burrow moved that, inasmuch as this is not the year for memorials to the General Conference, and inasmuch as this Conference so far has been one of beautiful harmony, therefore this resolution be laid on the table. The motion prevailed without a dissenting voice.

Blackboards.—The Morristown and Bluefield Districts made report of statistics on certain items through the medium of a blackboard, the presiding elders, C. T. Tally and J. A. Veteran Visitor.—Dr. T. F. Glenn, of the Western North Carolina Conference, who joined the Holston Conference 75 years ago, and is now 94 years of age, was introduced. Dr. Glenn, in age and feebleness extreme, was supported by Rev. Carlock Hawk, who also began his ministry in the Holston Conference, but who is now a member of the Western North Carolina Conference. Bro. Hawk and a friend held the veteran preacher up while he talked to the Conference. If the form was frail and bent, the voice was firm and strong, sounding resonantly out as it did thirty years ago. When he had finished his talk of tenderness and abiding faith in God, and was assisted back to his seat, the Conference standing, sang spontaneously and fervently,

"E'en down to old age all my people shall prove,
My sovereign, eternal, unchangeable love."

As the Conference sang, with deep feeling, many crowded around this hero of the cross and grasped his hand in happy fellowship. It was a scene not soon to be forgotten. Bishop Ainsworth spoke felicitous words.

The Conference adjourned with the benediction by J. A. Baylor.

Bishop Ainsworth took a standing vote, by sections of the auditorium, and the amendment was adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolutions as amended were adopted, as follows:

Whereas the payments on Benevolences this year have been distressingly low, be it resolved:

1. That we pledge ourselves to work systematically on the Benevolent Funds from the very beginning of the year.

2. To deal fairly with these obligations proportionately along with the local claims.

3. To do our best to have in the hands of the treasurer 50% of these funds by May 1st, and have report charge by charge in the Advocate.

A standing pledge was given the Bishop to help him make this a notable occasion in Holston.

Adjourned with the benediction by J. F. Benton, to meet in Memorial Session, this, Saturday, night.

Memorial Session

The Conference convened in Memorial Session, Saturday night, with Bishop Ainsworth presiding. Hymn 19, "Come, thou fount of every blessing," was sung. G. A. Maiden led in prayer. Bishop Ainsworth explained that he needed a little rest before the Sabbath, and so called Frank Y. Jackson to the chair, and retired to his room at the John Sevier Hotel.

Jeff Wall, evangelistic singer, by request, sang the hymn he had sung at the funeral of Thomas Priddy, "We'll never say good-bye in Heaven."

John C. Orr read a composite memoir of the preachers and preachers' wives who had died during the year. The memoir briefly touched on the salient points in the lives of our fallen comrades. Complete memoirs will be published in the Holston Annual. Here is the list of the persons who, during the year, passed from time into eternity:

David P. Hurley
J. Tyler Frazier
Thomas Priddy
Benjamin C. Wilson
Walter Hodge
Charles E. Steele
Lawrence W. McFarland
Mrs. E. H. Yankee
Mrs. A. H. Clark
Mrs. E. W. Mort

The Conference stood and sang, "How firm a foundation." The memorial sermon was then preached by J. B. Ely, who used as his text, Matthew xxi., 31-32: "But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. God is not the God of the dead, but of the living."

Luther Bridgers sang "The Old Rugged Cross," and the Conference adjourned with the benediction by J. A. Burrow.

FIFTH DAY

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1932.

The Conference convened at 2:15 p. m., with Bishop Ainsworth presiding. Hymn 332, "Come thou fount of every blessing," was sung.

ORDINATION.—First assistant secretary, J. F. Benton, presented those who were to be ordained Elders. Bishop Ainsworth used the impressive ordination ritual of our Church, R. E. Early reading the first Scripture lesson, and C. G. Hounshell the second. The following certificate of ordination becomes a part of this record:

This is to certify that on Sunday morning, October 9, 1932, in the Munsey Memorial Methodist Church in Johnson City, Tenn., after divine worship, I ordained William Mervin Seymour, Wilbur Nicholas Parker, Carl Looney, Edward Lee Crump, to the office of Deacon in the traveling connection, and John Benjamin Trent and James Woodford Stone in the local ranks.

In the same church in the afternoon of the same day I ordained Prince Alva Eades, Phillips Cleopas Foote and Herman Edward Lovelace to the office of Elders in the traveling connection, assisted by Revs. J. R. Brown, P. L. Cobb, M. P. Carico in the laying on of hands.

William N. Ainsworth.

E. A. Phillips and R. C. Harris took upon themselves our ordination vows, without re-imposition of hands.

MINUTES.—The committee on reading our Journal made the following report:

The minutes of the regular and Memorial sessions of the Conference held on Saturday, October 8th, have been read by the committee and are approved.

L. E. Hoppe, Chairman.

STATISTICS.—Bishop Ainsworth called the statistical Minute questions, which were answered by D. Trigg James, chief statistical secretary. See indexed Minute Questions.

THANKS.—The following resolutions were adopted by a rising vote:

Johnson City in general, and Munsey Memorial Church in particular, have put us all under obligations for unstinted hospitality and kindly courtesies multiplied. Bro. C. K. Wingo and his force of helpers have given themselves unreservedly to looking after our comfort, the Methodist and other homes of Johnson City, the newspapers, the John Sevier Hotel, the blackboard secretaries, the hard-worked statistical secretaries, and others, have made this session of our Conference a great occasion. The railroad trip to the Orphanage at Greeneville, Tenn., the appetizing lunch served, the stirring programme rendered, and the warm welcome shown, all so generously provided by the Orphange authorities, made all of us prouder than ever of this worthy institution. All of the above mentioned have our deep appreciation and grateful thanks.

E. A. Shugart
J. A. Burrow
J. F. Benton

BIBLE BOARD

We believe the Bible to be the inspired Word of God, and that in spite of its enemies it will continue its mission of edifying and comforting the hearts of men. Each year it is being printed in new languages, and is reaching more people. Each year it enjoys a greater circulation than any other book. Our people should be urged to read it, and, where there are homes without it, every effort should be made to place it in such homes. It helps those who read it to shape their lives, leading them to that firm foundation—faith in God through Jesus Christ.

We suggest that as usual, the first Sunday in December be observed as Bible Sunday, and that where practicable, sermons be preached on the Bible and its use.

We commend the American Bible Society in the great work it is doing, and recommend that we still give it our support as in the past.

We also recommend the reappointment of Rev. J. M. Wysor as Colporteur for the American Bible Scoiety.

(3) For Centenary College—Mr. O. L. McLain, Mr. W. B. Parks, and Rev. R. B. Platt, Jr.

C. Recommendations

1. That our program for Christian Education be made to include a fuller use of a District Staff with the Presiding Elder as the logical leader working in co-operation with the Conference Staff. This District Staff to include the Presiding Elder, one worker for each age-group Division, and such associates as the situation in a District demands.

2. That every opportunity should be utilized to present the dynamically spiritual phases of Christian Education, and that the whole Church needs to be brought to an appreciation of Christian Education as the very essence of its own life power, instead of a mere mechanical routine. We must not only follow the example of the Master Teacher, Jesus of Nazareth, but we must also possess His power.

3. That the types of Leadership Training now promoted be extended as rapidly as resources and teaching staff will permit until all our churches have some form of Leadership Training. We urge a wider use of the Local and Standard Training Classes.

4. That one or more Districts be selected for intensive cultivation in co-operation with the Presiding Elder's program for the District.

5. We urge the observance of the Special Days as set forth in the Discipline: (1) Sunday School Day, (2) College Day, (3) Anniversary Day for the Young People's Division (Epworth League,) (4) Missionary Day on the Fourth Sunday each month, (5) Orphanage Day, (6) World Temperance Sunday.

D. Appointments to Special Work:

J. P. Byrd, Student Emory University.
H. J. Davis, Student Asbury College.

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

Report No. 1.

At the meeting of our Conference last year at Pulaski, Va., we joined four other Conferences and entered into a contract with McCowat-Mercer Printing Co., of Jackson, Tenn., to print and distribute our Conference organ, the Methodist Herald. This contract will be found in Report No. 1, Page 59 of the 1931 Annual.

Under the terms and conditions of this contract, we agreed to maintain a certain quota of paid subscribers to the Methodist Herald. In event of our failure to maintain this quota, we agreed to pay $1.00 for each subscriber short of said quota. In June and July of this year, the subscription list to the Methodist Herald began to fall off so rapidly, not only in our Conference, but in all the Conferences, that at a called meeting of the Joint Commission for the Methodist Herald, held in Nashville, July 26, 1932, it was decided best to cease publication immediately. Therefore, publication was discontinued August 10. Had it not stopped at that time, the deficit would have been even greater than it now is. On August 10, the date of discontinuance, the Holston Conference had only 1,091 paid subscribers. We agreed under the contract to maintain 3202 paid subscribers, therefore, we have a deficit of 2,111 subscribers, or, in other words, we are now due McCowat-Mercer Printing Co., $2,111.00. Under this contract, we further agreed to pay this deficit within thirty days after the adjournment of our Conference.

This is a bona fide contract and is a just claim on the Conference. We therefore recommend that this Conference authorize this board to execute its note in favor McCowat-Mercer Printing Co., for $2,111.00 due in twelve months with 6% interest, and further that the commission on Budget, be requested to embody in their report an amount sufficiently large to pay this note within one year.

Report No. 2

A Proposal For Adapting The Christian Advocate To Annual Conference Needs

By action of the Methodist Herald Commissioners of August 10th, Holston Methodists find themselves without a Conference medium. For a number of years the cause of Methodism in this territory has been served by the Holston Methodist, the Midland Methodist, and lastly the Methodist Herald, edited by faithful and competent men. Due to past experience and present conditions, your committee does not recommend any plan for the continuance of a separate Conference organ.

We believe that the action of the General Conference, which resulted in the merger of many church periodicals, thus saving overlapping and waste, was a wise and progressive step. We believe that the solution of the problem of a Conference paper is a plan which will combine the essential features of a Conference organ with that of the General organ. The Publishing House, desiring to be of service to Conferences void of a local organ, and often giving long and careful consideration, have worked out a plan to adjust the Christian Advocate to both General and Annual Conference needs. Your committee, therefore, recommends that the Conference endorse the plan proposed by the publishing agents making the Christian Advocate our one and only weekly church paper. The proposed plan is as follows:

1. As much territory as is now served by at least four Conference organs will be necessary to the carrying out of this proposed plan. A smaller area would not furnish sufficient circulation to support the enlarged paper.

2. The price of the enlarged paper will be two dollars per year in advance.

3. In addition to the present 32 pages in the Christian Advocate there will be eight pages for material suitable for a Conference organ. That is, the Christian Advocate will continue as distinctly a general organ and to it will be added eight pages of Conference organ features. The two sections will be bound together as one paper.

4. The Publishing Agents will take the present mailing list of any Conference organ and complete the unexpired time of all paid-up subscriptions.

5. No guarantee of minimum circulation of the enlarged Christian Advocate is asked of the Conferences, nor is any assessment to be made. The Publishing Agents take the entire risk.

6. For the assistance and protection of the Publishing Agents in their effort to supply Conferences with a General organ which contains also a paper adapted to their local needs, Conferences accepting this plan and entering into this agreement will be required to pass a resolution pledging their exclusive and earnest adherence to and support of the enlarged Christian Advocate, and declaring that they will discountenance and oppose any person, firm, combination or business concern, which might undertake to issue a paper in competition with it or designed to secure the patronage of the Conference; the resolution also must commit the members of the Conference to faithful and diligent efforts to secure subscriptions to the paper.

7. The editorial work and responsibility will be wholly in the office of the Christian Advocate at Nashville. The Conferences adopting this plan will be at no expense for editorial or clerical or stenographic assistance. Copy will be mailed direct to the editor of the Christian Advocate or to some one selected by the editor of the Christian Advocate to handle it. Bishops, presiding elders, pastors, laymen and laywomen, representatives of the various Boards, of the Woman's Missionary Societies, of colleges, of orphanages, of hospitals, etc., will be expected to contribute Conference news, and articles on Conference plans and measures, just as they at present send them to Conference Organs. The editorials, principal articles, etc., running in the main body of the Christian Advocate, will suffice for the forty page combination, so that the eight pages will be reserved for the exclusive presentation of Conference matters. The responsibility for sending the material and properly utilizing the space will be upon the above mentioned representatives of the Conference.

8. This plan and agreement having been adopted and made between the Publishing Agents and any Conference or group of Conferences shall be in force for two years from the date of the agreement. If by that time it is found that plan is satisfactory to both parties it may be extended automatically, or, if unsatisfactory to either party, it may be discontinued after a notice of 90 days given by either party.

(Whitmore and Smith Agents)

Report No. 3

Realizing the power of the printed page, on our modern life, either for good or bad, and also realizing that an enormous volume of pernicious and unwholesome literature is flooding our country, saying nothing of the wet daily newspapers, we therefore, recommend that pastors and laymen make a constant and incessant effort to put our Christian literature in the homes of our people.

We heartily recommend to our constituency the educational literature of our church. Independent publications should be supplanted by our Methodist literature.

Furthermore, we recommend and urge pastors and people to concern themselves about the circulation of the "Christian Advocate," "The World Outlook," "The Methodist Layman" as well as all other publications of our church.

C. E. Lundy, Chairman.

C. M. Fisher, Secretary.

CHURCH EXTENSION

BOARD OF FINANCE

Report No. 1

The Board of Finance is made more sensitive to the inevitable decrease in all its sources of income in the face of the dire need of most of the Conference claimants. It is requesting the local congregations in communities where superannuates or their widows have their residence to voluntary assume responsibility that they shall not suffer this year. The Board regrets that the allowances are reduced to very meager sums; $500 was set aside as a reserve fund for emergency relief.

Due to the fact that the need of the claimants is expressed by nearly all on the list, and that this is very difficult to determine, and also that considerable dissatisfaction was expressed last year based on years of service, the Board is asking that the Conference grant permission to make 75% of the apportionments on years of service. Furthermore due to delay in getting the appropriation, the Board asks permission to make the allowances to be filed with the Conference Secretary without being read on the Conference floor.

The Board requests the reappointment of Dr. W. M. Morrell as Conference Director of Superannuate Endowment.

The Presiding Elders are urged to assume responsibility in their districts in the raising of the adjusted quotas for Superannuate Endowment.

The Board makes an earnest plea that its assessment for 1932-33 be as large as possible.

W. M. Morrell, Chairman

M. S. Kincheloe, Secretary-Treasurer.

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES

The Board of Lay Activities desire to report as follows:

We are deeply grieved because of the embarrassment the whole task of the church is suffering as a result of failure to raise the benevolence apportionments. The very life of the church is, in a measure, dependent upon our benevolences. For us to continue to treat in any other than a serious manner the sacred obligation we share to carry forward the whole program of the church is to seriously threaten the continued existence of any single part of that program. Therefore we make the following recommendations:

(1) That District Boards of Lay Activities meet as soon after the Annual Conference as possible to make their plans for the year;

(2) That all lay leaders—especially district and associate leaders—offer their services especially in connection with the work of the District Stewards' meeting, the Kingdom Extension Institutes, and the District Conferences;

(3) That we urge an every member canvass in every church in Holston at the very beginning of the year to secure pledges covering all local expenses and the benevolent apportionments;

(4) That we emphasize the great importance of "stewardship" training. To that end, we urge all laymen to read "stewardship" literature and to give their support to the promotion of "stewardship" training classes;

(5) That we continue to furnish the Methodist Layman to all pastors, and urge a larger use and more wide-spread observance of Layman's Day; and

(6) That we pledge our unqualified and hearty support to our presiding elders and pastors in all matters pertaining to the growth of the Kingdom;

(7) J. N. Hillman was nominated as Conference Lay Leader.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

REPORT No. 1

The Missionary forces of the church were never confronted with greater opportunities for service than those which confront us today. In this time of distress the peoples of the world are listening for some sure word of comfort. The gospel of Jesus Christ is that word. Reports of spiritual triumph in all fields are encouraging. Revivals have been held. The people have been blessed and sinners have been converted and added to the church. In Brazil apostolic fires fell upon the Conference last year and gracious revivals have attended the preaching of the word.

The Mission charges in the bounds of this Conference have made substantial progress this year. Some of these churches have been visited by seasons of the most gracious revival power that we have witnessed in many years. A veritable pentecost has come to some of our churches, for which we devoutly thank God.

Hiwassee College, under the leadership of Mr. J. M. Colston, has enjoyed a good year, and the prospects for the coming year are bright. The school has the largest opening enrollment in history. We have a well equipped faculty. We rejoice in the high standards—both intellectual and spiritual—maintained on the Hiwassee campus, and we commend this worthy institution to the patronage of our people.

We extend our heartiest congratulations to Payne College upon the completion of fifty years of successful work for the Colored M. E. Church. Preparations are being made to celebrate February 14 to 16, 1933, the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of this institution. We pledge president E. C. Peters our hearty support. The Holston Conference Board of Missions has appointed Rev. M. A. Stevenson as our special messenger to attend the Jubilee Celebration, and we recommend the appointment of M. A. Stevenson, Mrs. L. A. Tynes, J. A. Baylor, J. N. Hillman, F. B. Shelton and C. G. Hounshell as a committee to cooperate with the Payne College Jubilee Commission.

This year marks the Centenary of the appointment of Melville B. Cox to Africa as the first Missionary to represent American Methodism in foreign fields. A suitable celebration of this event will be held in Norfolk, Va., October 31 to November 1. We hope many of our people will be able to attend that celebration and catch the victorious spirit of him who fell at his post with the ringing challenge, "Let a thousand fall, but let not Africa be given up."

We face unprecedented opportunities at home and abroad with a steadily decreasing missionary income. In 1931 the church at large paid only 45% of the apportionment on Benevolences and 28% on Kingdom Extension. The payments this year promise to be even lower.

The church's response to the missionary emergency call, when nearly $100,000 came into the treasury, was very encouraging. The large number of churches that responded is a proof that many of our people still have a missionary conscience.

The fields are white unto harvest and new doors open before us everywhere. We pray that the means and way be provided not only to maintain our noble army of missionaries in the field, but also to enable us to enter new fields that are now ready to be occupied.

We nominate Dr. J. A. Baylor for appointment as Conference Missionary Secretary.

We nominate Mr. J. M. Colston for the presidency of Hiwassee College. We recommend R. T. McDowell for appointment as Conference Evangelist. We call attention to the fact that the name of the Missionary Voice has been changed to the World Outlook, and urge our people to read this splendid missionary organ.

It is very urgent that the missionary enterprise be kept before our people, and we request that all presiding elders, pastors and Sunday School superintendents see that one Sunday in each month, preferably the fourth, be observed as missionary day with appropriate program and an offering for missions.

Your board faced the task of making appropriations this year with genuine regret at the thought of retrenchments and reduced appropriations to our mission projects. We desire to call particular attention to the fact that we have made no appropriations for the expense of travel to the Mid-Year Meeting and none to the Pastors' School. We have reduced the number of mission charges twenty-five per cent, and we have reduced appropriations by forty per cent. We desire to emphasize the policy of the Board of Missions that funds shall be paid out only as they are received.

The Board has made the following appropriations:

President Hiwassee College	$2,000
Expenses of the Board	250

Aetna	75C	Jonesboro	100C
Benham	100C	Kingsport City Ct.	330A2

C. G. Hounshell, President

M. A. Stevenson, Secretary

BOARD OF TEMPERANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICE

The Methodist Church, through its entire history, has stood for temperance, and has opposed the liquor traffic, illicit or legalized. It has cooperated with all agencies which sought the closing of the legalized Saloon, and the outlawing of the manufacturing of intoxicating beverages, and made its contribution toward national prohibition, as it exists today in the Eighteenth Amendment in the constitution of the United States. We reaffirm our position as favoring the Eighteenth Amendment as a national policy, and believe it to be the wisest yet devised for the control of the liquor problem. We commend the educational program of the Church as carried out through its literature, and urge special emphasis upon it.

Last year this Board respectfully urged the political parties to omit from their platforms the issue of prohibition, as it was a moral question, and has been settled by constitutional enactment. The platforms of both parties have practically disfranchised those seeking to register their votes in favor of the Eighteenth Amendment, and there is nothing left but the clear-cut duty of the temperance forces to seek the election of congressmen and senators and the members of the State legislators who favor the retention of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Be It Resolved, Therefore; That we, as members of Holston Conference, of the M. E. Church, South, now in session at Johnson City, Tennessee, do go on record as favoring the retention of the Eighteenth Amendment in the Constitution of the United States, and that we will vigorously oppose its repeal, in every legitimate way.

Social Service

In view of the economic conditions now confronting us, with its resultant want and misery, we proclaim our faith in God, and our abiding confidence in the Church of Jesus Christ, and pledge all the agencies seeking the amelioration of the suffering of the people. We urge those in authority to consider the proverb "that righteousness exalteth a nation," and that they stand for those principles which guarantee justice and fair dealings among men, and that the welfare of the people should be sought rather than political advantage or unjust gain. We confidently believe that the application of the principles taught by Jesus Christ to our industrial, and economic problems would remedy the present maladjustments, and consequent distress.

We urge that there be a larger sympathy for our inter-racial problems. We condemn mob violence, war, indecent pictures, vicious and degrading literature, drunkenness, and gambling of every sort.

We commend to our people our orphanage at Greeneville, Tenn., and accept the challenge to us for a larger charity in dealing with vexed social problems of today. This board recognizes the call of our Lord to stand for righteousness in all things that pertain to our economic, political, and social life, believing that truth and righteousness will prevail.

S. B. Vaught, Chairman.

James N. Hillman, Chairman.

COMMISSION ON BUDGET

Your Commission on Budget submits the following report. Our apportionment, for general work, coming down to our Annual Conference from the Budget Committee of the General Conference is $73,934.00. Tazewell	12,562.00
Wytheville	15,004.00
	$157,609.00

Out of the Conference apportionment, we recommend the following claims:

Conference Claimants	$19,200.00
Christian Education	36,750.00
Conference Missions	14,625.00
Church Extension	4,850.00
Lay Activities	1,125.00
Holston Orphanage	1,125.00
Notes of Bank Overdraft	6,000.00
	$83,675.00

Explanatory Par. I. We have a bank overdraft of $28.97 for the Bishop Hoss Memorial; a bank overdraft of $16.21 on the Rural Life Commission; a bank overdraft of $188.94 on Annual Conference Expense for last year, after all money collected on this year's apportionment for this item has been applied on last year's overdraft; a note in favor of the McCowat-Mercer Printing Company on the Methodist Advocate, on which a balance of $101.72 is unpaid (exclusive of interest); and a note in favor of the McCowat-Mercer Printing Company on the Methodist Herald for $2,111.00 (exclusive of interest.) These notes and bank overdrafts aggregate $2446.88. We recommend an apportionment of $6,000.00 to cover this amount, first, in order to satisfy the McCowat-Mercer Printing Company and secondly, in order that a per centage of collection of benevolences even as small as that of the present year will yield a sufficient income to pay these items in full by the end of the coming Conference year; with the further understanding that any surplus which may occur be prorated among the remaining Conference claims.

Explanatory Par. II: We recommend that a credit balance of $39.34 carried over for many years from the old Midland Methodist account be immediately applied on the above note of $101.72 due the McCowat Printing Company.

Explanatory Par. II: We recommend that the Conference Expense item be omitted, and that the previous $1200.00 apportioned for this item be transferred and added to the Conference Claimants item, thus reducing the 25% reduction of this item to a 20% reduction.

Explanatory Par. IV: In view of the fact that our total apportionment has been reduced to the lowest possible amounts necessary for supporting the work of our church, we urge a one hundred per cent collection on our benevolent apportionments throughout the Conference.

A. V. Rudy, Secretary

COMMITTEE ON EVANGELISM

The Church today faces distressing conditions in society in general, and also within itself. Apparent loss of evangelistic fire and zeal, falling off in accessions to the Church, declining attendance, decreasing contributions, especially for missions and benevolences, and lack of family religion are unmistakable danger signals. Our standard of piety has become lamentably low, so much so that the line between the Church and the world is well nigh obliterated. Practices long regarded as hurtful to spiritual life have become quite popular with Church members, and ofttimes prominent officials of the Church are offended if Sunday golf, Sunday baseball, cards and dancing are criticized, or even mentioned in the pulpit. It may be argued that these are not the worst sins that men commit, but unquestionably such indulgences indicate a low spiritual level, and one that makes the Church vulnerable to the spirit of worldliness in all its manifold forms. Yet we solemnly propound the question in quarterly conferences "Have the General rules been read?"

In society about us we see age-old standards disintegrating and brazenly diregarded. Crime is rampant and defiant. Vice flaunts itself from bill-board and screen, and myriad filthy publications carry it into every home. In a time when millions are out of work and suffering abounds throughout the land, we nevertheless see vast multitudes gathered to witness prize fights, wrestling matches, baseball and football games, and other amusements and sports, paying high prices for the privilege. Indeed the amusement industry has felt the depression least of all, vast multitudes have made pleasure their god, and rush madly in its pursuit. All manner of unbelief flourishes, and every shade of error is propagated, from outright and blatant atheism, to subtle attacks on the truth which use the forms and phrasing of religion as a camouflage. The public has become so tolerant of sex irregularities, immodesty, low morals, dishonesty in officials, and all manner of public indecency, that it can no longer be shocked.

There is general agreement among wise and thoughtful people in all the churches, and many outside any church, that above all things else a great spiritual awakening is needed. To those of us who have been called to preach the everlasting Gospel the emergency should make tremendous appeal. The conditions and the times call for a solemn rededication of ourselves to a united effort to lead our people in a mighty movement of repentance, consecration, and intercession, seeking such a coming of God upon us as will purge the Church, clothe her ministry with power, and save vast multitudes about us who are blinded by sin, and plunging madly on to everlasting ruin.

Holston Conference has been the cradle of a flaming evangelism in the past. Spiritual giants have gone out from these hills, such as John Adam Granade, Thomas Wilkerson, George Eakin, George O. Ganaway, Joseph Haskew, Thomas Stringfield, Creed Fulton, Elbert F. Sevier, David Sullins, R. N. Price, Frank Richardson, and George R. Stuart. These were great soul-winners, whose names shall shine as the stars forever. Great movements have taken their rise among these towering mountains, and like our majestic rivers have gone out with increasing volume to bless the world. Shall we forget our past, or be unworthy of such lineage? Have we tried to substitute human wisdom and energy for the power of God? Whatever it is that we need, if we wait before God in sincere humiliation and prayer light will break in, and God, even our own God will bless us.

It is our earnest conviction that we need to preach with boldness and confidence the great cardinal truths of our Gospel. There can be no great and sweeping revival that does not grow out of a well grounded faith. Christ must be central in our message. Christ exalted as King of Kings and Lord of Lords, a Christ truly divine. A Christ who was crucified, lifted up upon the cross, who made once for all by his death a full, perfect, and sufficient satisfaction for the sins of the whole world, and that men are saved by faith alone in Him, the sole ground of our salvation being what He did for us, and that all character and good works are the fruits of the new life received by faith. Christ is indeed teacher and example for all believers, but first and preeminently he is Savior and Lord. We must preach the risen Christ, alive forevermore, who makes endless intercession in the heavenly places, and who through the Holy Spirit is the unseen Presence in the Church, the divine center of its fellowship, and unfailing source of its life and power. Only out of such life comes sustained missionary motive and passion.

We must declare with plainness and faithfulness the Bible message on sin. We dare not disguise its nature by changing its name, it cannot be explained away. If sin were not a dire disease there would be no need for such a remedy. When men lightly estimate humanity's fallen estate, they seldom give full honor to Christ as Redeemer. A great Savior bespeaks a great need. Our Gospel must probe to its depths the festering sore of the human heart in order that the only balm sufficient for its cure may be applied. Daubing with untempered mortar will not safely build the walls of Zion; crying peace, peace, when there is no peace, will fail as miserably today as it did in ancient times. There is little desire for salvation until there is conviction for sin, and the Holy Spirit will produce conviction when we preach the inspired message of the New Testament concerning sin.

We must insist upon the absolute necessity of regeneration as a work divinely wrought by the Holy Spirit, as distinguished from any educational process, physiological change, or psychological phenomena. Despite all our vaunted progress human nature in all its basic essentials remains the same, and without the life from above which the Holy Spirit alone can impart, is dead to the spiritual world. The divine imperative "Ye must be born again," is universal in its application to our humanity. This is the very heart and core of our Gospel. Here is where the cross appears in individual experience, and it is this doctrine that most deeply offends fallen human nature. Any glossing over of the necessity for regeneration emasculates the Gospel, cuts us off from the source of power, and leads to spiritual sterility and death.

We are called upon by the very evils of our times to magnify our calling. We are messengers of God, called with a heavenly calling. Our message is life unto life, or death unto death to those who hear it. All the power of Omnipotence is pledged to give it effect, and to see that one word does not fall to the ground. We are not called to academic discussion, to polite dissertation couched in terms calculated to please, but to preach with the passion of an evangel whose message carries with its acceptance or rejection eternal life, or eternal death. Do we always preach with full consciousness of this responsibility? Says Paul to his son Timothy, "Preach the Word! Be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine. Do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry." A divinely called ministry has been the creative force in the Methodist movement to the present. Through such a ministry the great Head of the Church has exercised leadership and shaped our destiny. Is Methodism still to have a prophetic ministry? Shall Methodism still hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches? Yes, if we ourselves be not forgetful of the heavenly vision, and sound forth clearly the prophetic message. Such a message will be truly evangelistic. The Spirit unceasingly testifies to the world of Christ. From the unfathomable depths of the Godhead, the mystery of love that gave birth to redemption, the Holy Spirit as a mighty Gulf stream moves unceasingly upon our humanity. We cannot have fellowship with Him and remain cold and passionless.

Every preacher is called to be an evangelist. Away with the idea that God has reserved for a few the joy of harvesting souls. All honor to those of large gifts truly called to a special work in this field. They have their places of leadership and usefulness, but they are all too few to meet the need. The fields are white unto harvest and the laborers are few. Every man called to preach is called to be an evangelist, and every man truly called of God can have some degree of success in this blessed work. He cannot be the best pastor without feeling and expressing the evangelistic passion. No pastor reaches the full command of his highest powers until he comes to grips with sin on the firing line. He never fully realizes the greatness of his calling until he knows the agony of travail for souls, and Jacob like prevails with God. No man called of God feels satisfied until he sees trophies of his ministry in newborn souls. No other success can requite the man called of God. He cannot keep his ministry on the highest level without engaging frequently in the white heat of spiritual battle. He needs the revival season quite as much as his people.

There is no conflict or antagonism between New Testament evangelism and Christian education. Both take their authority and derive their power from the New Testament, and when this is true each complements the other. Christian education must in spirit and content be true to the New Testament and recognize it as final authority. Such education prepares the soil and sows the seed for fruitful evangelism, and effectually conserves its fruits. Neither can accomplish maximum results without the other. The preparatory work of Christian education needs the intensive revival effort to produce a full harvest, and the revival effort will be fruitful in proportion as the preparation has been thorough. Again revival results can only be fully conserved by education in the truth, and training in service. Wherever there has been apparent conflict it has been due to erroneous views of one or the other, to misunderstanding, to misguided zeal on the part of advocates of some particular method, one-sided views of the truth, or some or all of these combined. We must not be unmindful that our Christian education movement needs to be on guard against various insidious errors which have crept into the general field of religious education. Such views as ignore or discount the supernatural in Christian experience, the work of the Holy Spirit, discard the authority of the new Testament, and reduce conversion to little more than a phase of adolescence, and a matter for psychological analysis. Such views as are indicated by the following quotations from a recent book on the Psychology of Religious Awakening. The author quotes with apparent approval the following: "Conversion is a natural, normal, universal, and necessary process at a stage when life pivots over from an autocentric to a heterocentric basis." Whatever that may mean, it does not mean what Christ implied in the words "Ye must be born again."

Again the same author says: "It is a fact of common observation that religion, even in its highest and purest forms dawns in the individual coincidentally with puberty, and in its development revolves around the conceptions of love, fatherhood, the family, and other ideas suggestive of the sexual relation. The storm and stress, conviction of sin, and general disturbance of the emotional life attending religious awakening, is a part of the general adolescent ferment which accompanies the biological changes of puberty." This does not reflect New Testament teaching on the great matter of conversion, nor does it show any kinship with the doctrines of Methodism. Nor does the following: "It thus appears that there is nothing in the psychological phenomenon of conversion itself, not even when the conversion is distinctly religious, to demand conviction for sin, or the sense of guilt and condemnation." The same author makes the bold statement that "In neither of the two branches of Methodism, (Methodis Episcopal, and Mehodist Episcopal South) is any mention made in the Ritual of the necessity of conversion, both taking it for granted that children are born regenerate, and may retain that nature." He undertakes to state the position of those who believe in religious education in the following language: "Religious education has however, passed from the stage of simple instruction in facts to the position that religion itself may be developed from the capacities of original nature by an educational process." What a gulf between this and the teaching of Wesley.

These and views close akin to them are rife, and a vast literature has been created, and therefore leaders in Christian education need to be on guard. The book quoted from was written by a prominent author in our own Church, but we are persuaded that such views are not held by our authorized leaders in Christian education. Dr. W. F. Quillian, General Secretary of our Christian Education Board, has the full confidence of the Church as a man of evangelical experience, and standing for the vital truths of Methodism. In Rev. F. B. Shelton of our own Conference we have a man whom we can safely follow, and whose evangelical spirit is unquestioned.

We believe that the surest defense against all such error is the closest cooperation and most sympathetic understanding between leaders in evangelism and leaders in Christian education. These fields overlap and each needs the other. We believe that our Training schools and Institutes may be made even more effective than in the past, if in addition to the excellent courses already carried greater emphasis can be placed upon the importance of vital Christian experience, more thorough study of Christian doctrine, prayer, consecration, holy living and evangelism. This is in line with the views of our strongest and wisest leaders in Christian education.

In seeking to promote a genuine and general revival in Holston Conference let us remember that it is a great thing we attempt. We war not against flesh and blood alone, but against principalities and powers, against spiritual wickedness in high places. But we have for our equipment a havenly armor, proof against all the weapons of evil. The battle is the Lord's, and to those who are willing to cast away doubt and fear, give up ease, and throw themselves wholly upon God, victory will come.

You ask "what methods shall we use?" If His Spirit shall lead us, methods will be developed as need arises. Let us stand "every man in his place" as did Gideon's band. Let there be all possible unity of effort, let us be of one spirit, one heart, and one soul. Let us pray fervently for one another, and organize our people for prayer. Let us create an atmosphere of prayer from New River to Lookout Mountain, and from the Great Smokies on the east to the Cumberlands on the west. Let us preach about it, persist in our efforts, cry aloud and spare not. Let every meeting be reported that His name may be glorified and the people encouraged, then at each Annual Conference session give great prominence to evangelism as our Bishop has so effectively done at this session.

To initiate and promote such an awakening in the Holston Conference, we propose that a Conference on Missions and Evangelism be held at Bristol on January 12-13, when Bishop Ainsworth can be present and preside, and if possible to secure Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Dr. Charles L. Goodell, and other outstanding leaders.

The Board of Missions will undertake to promote this meeting, and to secure if possible the attendance of every preacher in charge, and at least one layman from each charge, and as many others as possible. The good people of Bristol will cooperate by furnishing lodging for the one night that delegates will need to spend in Bristol.

To economize in time and travel it has been determined to hold the Midyear Meeting of the Board of Missions in connection with this meeting, and the Program Committee will confer and collaborate with Bishop Ainsworth in making plans for the meeting.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS

The records were in good shape with the following exceptions:

1. Sweetwater, Chattanooga, Radford and Knoxville Districts have no complete roll of members, but indicate only those who are present.

2. The Bluefield roll was in the book on a separate sheet of paper and not fastened in the book. The Bluefield District record is in a loose leaf book and written with a typewriter. It is the opinion of the committee that the ink will fade with age and that the leaves will become lost.

3. The Wytheville record was not before the committee. The secretary states that he has the minutes in due form, but that he has not had the record book, and cannot find any trace of its whereabouts.

S. R. Morrell, Chairman.

We have many applications for admission at the present time, and some of them we shall have to take because there is no other provision for them. We sincerely hope that the income of the Institution will continue to be of sufficient amount to enable us to care for one hundred and seventy-five at least.

The Board requests the Conference to appoint Dr. J. A. Burrow, Dr. U. G. Jones, Messers. F. A. Carter, F. W. Udy and Matt G. Thomas as Directors of the Orphanage, and that J. L. Hardin be re-appointed as Superintendent. Again we ask the Conference to make the assessment for the Orphanage this year a minimum of $2,000.00—more if possible. We also request that the Executive Secretary of Christian Education be appointed as director ex-officio.

Many of the churches are giving us the open collection on the 5th Sunday. This makes a very substantial increase to the offering on that date, and we very kindly request that more churches give us this contribution. We do not believe that the church has a more important field of labor than the work of the Orphanage.

HOSPITAL BOARD

Your Conference Hospital Board wishes to submit a very brief report. The fact that we have no hospital within the bounds of our Conference makes the creation of interest extremely difficult. Your board realizes that a project of this kind, at the present, is impossible. It is best for us to support, as liberally as possible, our only connectional institution at Tucson, Ariz.

The year has been so financially difficult that we have not stressed the Cause as in former years. We have not pressed our people for contributions. However, the chairman visited all the Conference Kingdom Extension Institutes and presented the work. We hope the ensuing year will bring with it "better times," and ever increasing offerings.

Our Church is now operating twelve modernly equipped hospitals—(See Holston Annual for 1931,, page 77). The newest of these is the Warren A. Candler Memorial, at Savannah, Ga. Our hospital at Montgomery, Ala., which for some time has been closed, will be re-opened soon.

We would call attention to the annual Golden Cross enrollment during Hospital Week. Hospital Week includes the second and third Sundays in May. Literature may be had from the General Hospital Board, Atlanta, Ga., or from the Conference Golden Cross Director. This money is used in treating the sick poor in our connectional hospital at Tucson, Ariz.

The Board re-nominates the Rev. J. C. Spurlin as Conference Golden Cross Director, without salary. We have $158.07 in the treasury, therefore we do not ask for an appropriation this year.

SOUTHERN METHODIST ASSEMBLY

This Assembly was founded some twenty years ago by a group of Methodist laymen, ministers, and bishops in the interest of the Methodist Church. It was a private corporation, and the church had no official responsibility for its origin and no legal or moral liability for its operations, or for its debts. Owing to war, depressions, etc., it became heavily involved in debt and about 1925 placed a bonded debt of $160,000.00 upon the property and contracted other large indebtedness. Being a private corporation it was subject to heavy taxation, found itself unable to sell more stock or otherwise pay its debts. In 1929 the stockholders proposed to the Annual Conferences that if the Conferences would elect trustees to hold and operate the Assembly for the Church, the stockholders would deed the property to the Church subject to its debts. This proposition was accepted on the strict condition that the Conferences assume no legal or moral responsibility for the debts of the Assembly incurred by the stockholders.

Trustees were elected and met in December 1929, organized, accepted a deed to the property and took over the operation of the Assembly. Your trustees took charge a few weeks after the crash in Wall street in October, 1932, and conditions have been so bad that your trustees could make little progress in freeing the Assembly of debt. On June 18, 1932, a receiver was appointed on petition of a small group of creditors. This was done without the knowledge of any of the officers or trustees. This action caused the bond-holders to give notice that they would, in due course, advertise and sell the property under their mortgage. This sale will wipe out all unsecured debts. It is the expressed desire of many of the unsecured creditors, who will lose everything, and we believe, it is the unanimous desire of all creditors that the Church shall continue to own and operate the Assembly to promote the great purposes for which it was founded. The bond-holders have agreed to carry their $94,000.00 for ten years from Sept. 15, 1932, provided the Assembly will assign to them the entrance fees and the income from the sale of vacant lots. On the basis of past receipts the income from these sources will pay the interest and the greater if not all of the principal by the end of the ten years.

In order to prevent the loss of the Assembly it was necessary for trustees, ministers and laymen to endorse for the Assembly and provision should be made for these notes amounting to $63,000.00. The holders of these notes will waive all legal recourse against the Assembly thus making this a debt of honor to be paid when funds can be found for this purpose.

Besides the above the Assembly owes a little less than $9,000.00 which we expect to raise from donations and pay in the next few weeks. The settlement and re-adjustments agreed upon are reasonable and just, and fully preserve the honor of the Church.

In order to protect your trustees and other servants of the Church and to insure the perpetuity and enlarged usefulness of the Assembly to the Church, we believe this Conference should give the Assembly the benefit of the small assessment provided for by the last General Conference.

Therefore, we recommend: "First, That the trustees of Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly representing the Holston Conference by an appointed committee with authority to raise by individual contributions the amount requested of this Conference, or such amount as they can raise." Second, That the Treasurer shall not pay the proceeds to the Assembly until he has satisfactory proof that this assessment with other donations and income will free the Assembly from the menace of present debts. Third, That the proceeds of this assessment shall be paid to and accepted by said Assembly only upon the strict condition that the officers and trustees shall have no power to create any indebtedness against the Assembly except for operating expenses, and that at the beginning of each year a budget for operating expenses shall be fixed and in no case shall said budget exceed the operating income of the previous year, and the superintendent, or business manager, shall give bond to pay all expenditures, he may make in excess of the budget; and that no buildings, improvements or other matters outside the budget shall be started or any contracts made until money is in hands for said purpose, and all work, purchases, and expense shall cease when no money is in hand to pay for same. Fourth, That Dr. J. A. Baylor be elected trustee for a term of two years.

SPIRITUAL STATE OF THE CHURCH

The Church, as founded by the Master, was a spiritual organization, and as such was intended to become a soul-saving institution. While it was to be and remain in the world, it was not to be of the world. In this it is unique and different from any and all institutions promulgated by man for the betterment of the race. Jesus Christ came not to found a world-empire, such as many Jews of his day hopefully anticipated, but to inaugurate a movement that would reach to the depths of human need, change the ideals of the race and lift humanity to a plane commensurate with God's purpose in the creation of man. So the Church as an institution, was created for this purpose. That the Church might function to that end, God has and is calling men through the Church to go to the ends of the earth, there teach, preach and evangelize, until the whole world has been included in the call to repentance and faith in Christ our Lord and Savior.

Ministers and laymen of the Conference should be more than grateful for the privilege of having a part in this remarkable world program, and be willing to go to any length and make any sacrifice that the kingdom of God may be established throughout the bounds of this Conference, with a history second to none among the many Conferences of Southern Methodism.

We rejoice in the fact that there has been quite a number of conversions and reclamations during the Conference year, and many of our preachers have made enviable records in their evanglistic efforts; but we feel that there is a great spiritual dearth among our people, and an imperative need for a deeper experience of grace in their religious lives. We, therefore, recommend, that the coming Conference year may be one given over to the salvation of souls and the cultivation of a finer and deeper religious experience among our people.

Memoirs

DAVID P. HURLEY

David P. Hurley, son of James F. and Julia A. Hurley, was born February 28, 1861, in Ashe Co., N. C. The Hurleys were substantial people, living comfortably but not in affluence, there in the old North State. His father was killed during the war between the States. Young David from that time lived in the home of his maternal uncle, David Dixon. His early advantages were such as to give him a liberal education, he having attended school at Emory and Henry College in his final preparation for his chosen profession, that of teaching. While a student at Sparta, N. C., he was converted to God, joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and lived a consistent Christian life to the end. For eight years he followed his chosen profession, teaching as high school principal. His deep piety and sincere interest in mankind led him to see the needs of a lost world. He consequently heard and answered the call to preach.

Joining the Holston Conference at a session held in Wytheville, October 1889, he was sent to the Independence circuit, where he remained four years, completing his Conference course of study on schedule time, despite the heavy work of that large circuit, and making a splendid record as preacher and pastor. From there he was sent to serve the Spring Valley circuit, where he remained four years; then to the Lead Mines circuit for the full four years. During the first twelve years of his life in the Conference he served only three appointments. From there he was sent to Williamson, now in the Western Virginia Conference, for one year; Saltville, three years, and had been appointed to the fourth when the death of the late lamented J. O. Straley made vacant the Tazewell District to which has was appointed presiding elder.

In this new relation he gave himself to the work of the Church without stint and remained the full four years, as he had often done before. He was from there appointed to the Radford District where he did four successful years work, meeting all of his appointments and giving such personal direction to the work as to make his stay most effectual. The Wytheville District next received him to profit by his leadership. At the end of the third year his health had begun to fail. Long years of hard work and exposure on large circuits and districts were taking their toll from his never over robust body. It was thought best that he should not face the dangers of so large a country district and the exposure incidental to its superintendency, consequently he was sent to Pulaski station, where he had served four years as presiding elder, and where he was received most gladly. His work there, his last, was probably the best work of his life. He remained there for three years, at the end of which time the disease that had been the cause of his giving up the district, creeping paralysis, had so advanced that he was compelled to give up the work he so much loved and take the superannuate's relation. This proved to be his last appointment. As he had usually served four years, there being only two exceptions, so he sustained this relation to the Conference, a little more than four years. The dreadful malady kept steadily advancing; but calmly and with such Christian fortitude as one seldom sees, he faced death almost daily. I was much in his home during this period; we were close confidential friends; but I never heard a word of complaint, for there were none uttered. He went about such work as he could do and studied as had been his custom in health, taking a lively interest in everything about him, the issues of Church and state, joking and teasing as if he were in no danger of death at almost every moment. His faith held steady and he was resigned.

He was happily married to Miss Sallie A. Nukirk, July 17, 1889, who became his faithful helpmate and able assistant in every undertaking. Her place by his side was always faithfully and ably filled. Cheerfully she went with him to the hard places without a murmer; but with a buoyant faith, holding up his hands and lending the courage of her loyalty to him and to the Church. Her devotion during the trying years of his affliction was touchingly tender and beautiful. To this union were born two sons and four daughters: Blanch, Roanoke City schools; Dwight P., Charleston, W. Va., principal High school; Willie Neal, principal High school, Pembroke, Va.; Mrs. C. M. Peters, Craddock, Va.; Mrs. K. E. Baber, Lexington, Ky.; and Mrs. H. C. Branch, Radford, Va. All of these survive him, as do also twelve grand-children.

He passed from this world of toil and sorrow, interspersed with rest and joy, to that vast beyond, where we confidently expect to find him waiting at the beautiful gate when the last sun goes down. He was removed to the Hospital Roanoke, his family and friends hoping against hope for his recovery. He died January 10, 1932. The remains were brought back to Pulaski where he had last served, and with a throng of all classes, including many members of the Conference the simple rites were performed and we laid him to rest on a hill-top overlooking the scenes of his labors. He had fought a good fight, he had kept the faith, he had finished his course, and we believe there was a crown of righteousness laid up for him in heaven.

I regard it as one of the high privileges of more than thirty years in the ministry to have known him well, to have shared his friendship and to have stood by his side. In most of the scenes through which the life of a Methodist preacher wends its way it was my happy experience to pass with him. In the pastorate, in the boards, on committees, in the Bishop's cabinet, in every relationship he was always the same trustworthy, self sacrificing, painstaking, unselfish faithful friend to the cause of God and his brethren in the ministry. It was my privilege to sit in every cabinet session of which he was a member. He was there, as everywhere else, a hard working, conscientious brother. I never heard him say a word behind the closed doors of the cabinet about any brother or charge that might not have been uttered in their presence. The Cabinet tries the very souls of men. There are temptations to favor friends; to become careless—at least not so alert, after days of working in the long grind of its sessions, but he was vigilant, never neglecting a member or a charge. The smallest as well as the largest received his faithful attention. He was not, in the cabinet, the presiding elder of the district alone, but of the Conference, seeking to avoid a misappointment in any place and to do justly by all.

He was a man true to his convictions and purposes, courageous and generous to a fault. He was unafraid, but never harsh; he did not think more highly of himself than he ought to have thought, yet he had no false modesty. He was a student of nature, of men, as well as of the best books and the Word of God. He was an independent thinker, never fanatical, but he carefully examined all propositions and reached his own conclusions.

As a minister he was humble, obedient and faithful. He preached the gospel without apologies to any—not the "traditions of the elders," the halfway established theories sent out by the even popular writers. He preached out of a full experience, often rising to heights of the sublime in his powers to discern and to express in well chosen words that poetry he felt in his soul. He forced his fellow ministers and all others to respect his opinions and to follow his leadership by his righteousness of life and ability to comprehend.

He spoke with the authority of God's Word out of an experience that admitted of no peradventure. The fundamental teachings of the Book were his favorite themes, and through them he pursuaded men. As a pulpiteer he was popular, and this popularity grew to the end of his days. He was convincing, earnest and eloquent. When his voice is silent I stand in my place to say, I have never known a better man. When I was appointed to Marion and ready to leave Radford, where he had made his home during the years of his superannuation, I went to say goodbye to Dave. Without a tremor in his voice he said, "Ed, one of these days they will be calling you back to lay me to rest—you know where to find me when life is over."

So the last chapter of his life has been written. A good man and true has gone home to the household of a good God.

J. TYLER FRAZIER

Jacob Tyler Frazier was born in Giles County, Va., November 22, 1840, the son of George A. and Sallie Dillon Frazier, and died at his home in Chilhowie, Va., February 23, 1932. Thus in his 92nd year "the grand old man of Holston Conference" passed from labor into God's eternal rest. He was converted and united with the Church at Old Wabash Camp Ground at the age of 16. He was a preacher before he was 21. He was admitted on trial into the Holston Conference at Marion, Va., September 15, 1865, and received into full connection at Cleveland, Tenn., in 1867, and ordained deacon by Bishop Wightman. He was ordained elder by Bishop Kavanaugh, at Wytheville, Va., in 1870. He was an active Christian and loyal Methodist for 76 years, a preacher for 71 years, and died in the 67th year of his admission on trial and in the 65th year of his full membership in the Conference.

He enlisted in Company D. Seventeenth Virginia Regiment at the beginning of the Civil War, and served in the Confederate Army under Gen. Lee to the end of the war. He was made chaplain, and by his tireless ministry to his comrades he won many to enlist as soldiers of Christ. He was greatly loved by his comrades and they fondly called him "the barefooted preacher." As an evidence of his devotion, to him belongs the distinction of having organized the first Y. M. C. A. in the South. It was not affiliated with the parent organization, but it was no less real in fact and in name. Its membership was composed of soldiers from five regiments and it was called the "Y. M. C. A. of Kemper's Brigade." Brother Frazier was its president.

He was married in September, 1866, to Maria Virginia Taylor, daughter of J. W. and Mary Tate Taylor, of Tazewell County, Va., and this union was blessed with eight children, five of whom survive: Mrs. J. R. Eakin, Radford, Va.; Dr. H. B. Frazier, Bluefield, Va.; J. T. Frazier II, Chilhowie, Va.; C. C. Frazier, Bluefield, W. Va.; and Mrs. D. D. Staley, Marion, Va. His second marriage was to Fannie D. McBroom, daughter of Judge J. W. and Henrietta Jackson McBroom, of Abingdon, Va., April 8, 1913, and she survives him. He is also survived by one brother, Rev. G. A. Frazier, of Villa Grove, Ill., and by seventeen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Brother Frazier served in every capacity of the regular ministry, on circuits, missions, stations and districts and was successful on all. His first appointment was junior preacher on the Jeffersonville Circuit, and his last was junior preacher on the Chilhowie Circuit. Other of his appointments were East Tazewell; Lebanon; Main Street, Bristol; Broad Street, Knoxville; Pocahontas; Newbern; Bland Street, Bluefield; Marion; Chilhowie; Conference Evangelist, and Emory Circuit and College Chaplain, and on the Jeffersonville, Abingdon and Radford Districts. He was superannuated in 1919, having served in the Conference for 54 years.

He towered high above the ordinary both as a preacher and a personality. As a preacher, he was a genius. His insight into scriptural truth was marvelous, and in his presentation of it he swayed multitudes as few men ever have. For years he was the most widely known and admired preacher in his Conference. He stirred people to their profoundest depths. While congregations were moved to tears, hardened sinners turned to God and saints were in transports of joy. He had a wonderful flow of language. He was never at loss for a word. His powers of description were wonderful. He could depict scenes and incidents so vividly that they became visual to the eyes of his hearers. Probably this accounts for the tremendous impression he made at the Centennial session of the Tennessee Conference in 1912, in McKendree Church, Nashville, when, as the representative of the Holston Conference, he made an address on Old Time Circuit Riders. Quickened by the magic of his words, his audience saw as in a moving panorama, the toils and privations of the evangels of the Cross and their quenchless zeal and all conquering faith as they battled for the Lord.

Brother Frazier was preeminently a man of one Book. His thoughts and language were saturated with the imagery and appealing simplicity of the King James version of the Bible. He knew the Bible and loved it. Even in age and feebleness extreme he read it and meditated on it for hours every day. During the last year of his life there were times when his mental processes were awry, but this was never the case when he preached or when he discussed the Bible. At such times his thoughts were lucid and logical. He loved to preach and did so almost to the very end. He preached in the church at Chilhowie on his 91st birthday, November 22, of last year.

He was a man of strong convictions and he had the courage to maintain them. He was an ardent advocate and defender of prohibition. Indeed, there was never any doubt as to where he stood on any moral question. He believed in the old moralities as he believed in the old faith. He had strong political convictions but he never hesitated to desert his party when he felt it had deserted its principles. As an evidence of the esteem in which he was held, no less than five daily papers took editorial notice of his death and were very appreciative of his character and his service to humanity, and his power as a preacher and an orator. His was a great personality. Some of his characteristics as expressed by members of his family were: "Punctuality; I never knew him to be late for anything;" "economy and industry, rising early and working late;" "steadfastness of purpose;" "love for and loyalty to his family;" "cheerfulness and keen humor." The one who knew him more intimately than any other in the last years of his life was impressed by his wonderful memory, the clearness and the analytical and logical quality of his mind, and she said: "His was the most compelling personality I ever knew." And yet, his was a pleasing personality. He was a popular pastor. There was ever a very tender and sympathetic relationship between him and his people. Every one respected him but no one was afraid of him. He was genial and companionable. His hospitality was unstinted. He loved to have his friends about him. His guests felt at home. His door was open to rich and poor alike. He was simple in his manner, unpretentious and brotherly. There was no sham and make-believe about him. He stood out in the open, for all men to see, unashamed. His early advantages were meager. He had only three months in school. Yet, he was an educated man. His information was wide and varied. He educated himself. He absorbed knowledge. He was a gifted conversationalist and could speak fluently and informatively on current events. He had a comprehensive grasp of the great issues of the times as they affected the Church and the nation. Emory and Henry College recognized his great achievements and his scholarship in the things that pertained to his sacred calling and bestowed on him the Doctor's Degree, an honor well earned and worthily bestowed.

How shall we account for such achievements and such a life? It is said that the will to succeed is half of success. Brother Frazier had that but he had more. He had the other, and the larger, half of success—faith in God. Like Abraham of Old, God called him and he followed on and on. He found the fullness of his powers in Jesus Christ. His outstanding personality was wrought by the magic of divine grace.

He was a Methodist of the old school. He believed in the testimony of the saints and he was never happier than when in a "love-feast." He deplored the decline in class meetings and experience meetings. There was much in present day tendencies in Methodism that he did not approve, but he never lost faith in the on-going of God's Kingdom. He was not disturbed as to the final outcome for he had an abiding faith in the great Head of the Church and in His power to rule and overrule and that the truth would prevail in the end.

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ."

At his request a simple funeral was held in the Methodist Church at Chilhowie, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. W. N. Wagner, a life-long friend of the deceased. His grandsons were the pall-bearers and his granddaughters the flower-bearers. The funeral was attended by many preachers and by a large number of people who came from far and near. We laid his body to rest in the little cemetery on the hill overlooking the village and the beautiful countryside for miles away, amid the scenes and the people he loved.

THOMAS MORGAN PRIDDY

Thomas Morgan Priddy was born in Giles County, Va., February 20, 1874, the son of Frank N. and Melvira S. Priddy. He was blessed in that his parents were of staunch religious stock as well as personally pious. They were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to which he was carried in infancy, and dedicated to God in holy baptism. His father was the first settler in what is now the town of Narrows, Va., where Thomas was reared. Almost alone his father builded the first Methodist Church in that community. The son grew to manhood under the influence of that Christian home and the Church. However, he did not unite with the Church until he had reached his nineteenth year (the prevailing custom then, and a good one, was to defer that event until there should be a sound conversion). For a number of years he fought the "call to preach." Following a severe and protracted illness he was soundly and genuinely converted to God. Soon he related his experience of a "call" to his mother, and, when she was on her dying bed, promised her that he would heed the leadings of the Spirit and enter the ministry.

He was educated in the schools of the community, and later studied at Birmingham, Ala. At first he sustained a local preacher's relation to the Church which enabled him to enter the contracting business in which he was successful and in which he remained until 1901, when he applied for admission into the traveling connection of Holston Conference.

He married Miss Willie Anne Fizer, of Narrows, Va., and to this union four daughters were born: Maude, who became the wife of Mr. E. E. Bailey of Princeton, W. Va.; Ruth, who died in infancy; Mary and Ernestine who remain with their mother. Maude, who was the sweet singer, often singing with her father in revivals and directing his choir, preceded him to the better land by only a few years. She left one son, James Priddy Bailey. Brother Priddy's devotion to his wife—a helpmate indeed—and her devotion to him, were beautiful. Into the life incidental to an itinerant Methodist preacher's work, she entered with all her ransomed powers, urging him on in every good word and work, sharing his joys and sorrows to the end of his earthly journey. They were happy in their work, in their home and in the company of each other.

He was a man of profound religious convictions, and sought daily to live up to the gospel he preached to others. Probably his outstanding characteristic was his religiousness. He was an evangelist of great power, fervent in his utterance and faithful to his call. His leadership and influence among men were felt wherever he went. Thousands who were converted under his faithful ministry shall stand in that day to call him blessed. Both as a pastor and a general evangelist he used only sound methods and preached a simple gospel full of pathos and heart-felt appeal.

He was of that happy disposition that made friends, and his sincerity and affection held them to him. His wit was a real asset, and through its use he was able to turn to good account that which otherwise might have been embarrassing. He had a deep and abiding sympathy for lost men, which reached to the waif on the street as to those in the higher circles of life. His ambition was to lead men to the Saviour, and so thoroughly did this excellent quality permeate his very soul that he was seldom harsh in his preaching or exhortations; but instead he was persuasive, even pleading, always patient, in all of his propositions. His home life was happy. His family to him was a joy. He was the big brother as well as the father in his relations to his children. This home had an open door for all, irrespective of condition or position in life. He loved righteousness. He was concerned to find the right side of a question and then he fearlessly allied himself with it.

His record of service is as follows: New River circuit 1901-4; Grace Church, 1904-8; Trinity, (Chattanooga) 1908-10; Centenary (Knoxville), 1910-14; Grove Avenue 1914-16; First Church Princeton, 1916-20; Broad Street Kingsport, 1920-22; General evangelist, 1922-30; Hillsville, 1930 to the time of his death. We shall not forget how he stood before the chancel at the Conference at Bristol, 1930, and said, "Bishop, I want pastoral work, and I know you are crowded, but I am willing to go to the hardest mission in the Conference." He was sent to a mission charge, a large circuit, where he did, probably, the best work of his life, and from which he went home to heaven.

As an itinerant minister he made a noble record, using his powers for the advancement of the cause of God. As a pastor he was painstaking, gentle, lovable and a hard worker. As a preacher he was sound in the faith and faithful in his utterances. In the evangelistic field he was in his proper fitting. There he excelled himself in all other labors. All of his life in the ministry the evangelistic field was his preference and in all his labors this was the dominant appeal in his soul. In that field, or in the pastorate, he was much in revival work, holding revivals in his own charge and going out to assist the brethren whenever possible. He had just returned from a revival at Elizabethton, Tenn., when he was taken sick with his last illness. On March 5 he took his bed; on the 17th the doctors decided upon hospital treatment; pursuant to their instructions he was removed from the parsonage at Hillsville to Martin Memorial Hospital, Mount Airy, N. C., and on the morning of the 18th his spirit winged its way back to the God who gave it. He was buried from our Church at Princeton, W. Va., beside his daughter, Maude. A large crowd of people and many members of the Conference attended the funeral attesting their faith in him and their devotion to a brother beloved.

WALTER HODGE

Walter Hodge, son of Robert Chester and Julia Alice Hodge, was born at Bakersville, N. C., July 12, 1877. He lived in North Carolina till he was seventeen years of age when he moved with his parents to Sullivan County, Tenn., and located near the town of Blountville. He was happily converted at the age of sixteen and united with the M. E. Church, South. Soon after his conversion he felt called to the ministry and at once went to work to prepare himself for the high calling to which he had dedicated his life. He was educated at Holston Institute and Emory and Henry College. He spent some time teaching while seeking an education.

He was licensed to preach in 1899 and was admitted into the Holston Conference on trial in 1901. He was sent, that year to the Bristol Circuit. He finished his year's work on this charge and in the fall entered Emory and Henry College. After the commencement of 1903 he supplied Northfork charge till Conference. After this he served the following charges: Grundy, 1903-05; Coal Creek, 1905-06; Rising Fawn three months and Hill City nine months, 1906-07; Pikeville, 1907-09; Damascus, 1909-11; Bland, 1911-15; Cripple Creek, 1915-17; Independence, 1917-18; Graham Circuit, 1919-23; Castlewood and Dante, 1923-25; Cedar Bluff, 1925-26; Belfast, 1926-27; Dickensonville, 1927-30; Floyd, 1930-31; Lerona, 1931.

While serving the Bristol Circuit he met Miss Mary Frances McLelland and was married to her December 22, 1903. To this union were born ten children: Mary Frances and Lucy of Elizabethton, Tenn.; Marvin S. of Stonega, Va.; Emory Allen and Mrs. Donald Blach of Washington, D. C.; James of Abingdon, Va.; Howard, Dorothy, Paul and Lyle of Lerona, W. Va. He is survived by his wife, mother, two sisters and one brother.

Brother Hodge did the work of a Methodist preacher in an orderly manner. He went regularly to the charges to which he was assigned and preached the gospel to the people emphasizing the truth by living it. That which specially characterized his life was his quiet, gentle spirit. He did faithful work on the various boards and committees of the Conference. For twelve years he was secretary of the Conference Board of Church Extension.

At the age of 54 in the parsonage at Lerona, W. Va., he quietly fell asleep on the morning of April 3, 1932. Funeral services were held in Emmanuel Lutheran Church near the old Tennessee home. The services were in charge of Rev. Z. F. Mayberry who was assisted by other ministers present. His body was laid to rest in the cemetery close by.

W. M. Morrell.

CHARLES EMMETT STEELE

The ministry of Charles Emmett Steele came to a close on May 1, 1932, at the home of his daughter at Elk Garden, Va., following an illness of some weeks duration. His body was laid to rest in the family cemetery at Bull's Gap, Tennessee, on the 69th aniversary of his birth—May 3. He was born in Scott County, Va., in 1864. His parents were the Rev. Reuben and Elizabeth Forkner Steele, who are remembered as persons of unusual piety and Christian devotion. The father, in addition, was a man of inflexible courage and abundant in the labors of the Kingdom, and these characteristics were by no means wanting in the son. When a lad of twelve years both his parents were claimed by death, but this brief period of parental oversight and guidance was sufficient to establish him in the Christian faith, and doubtless accounts for his conversion at the early age of eight. He grew to young manhood in the home of an elder brother, taking courses of study in both Hiwassee and Emory and Henry Colleges.

His marriage to Miss Ida P. Mooney, of Bull's Gap, on September 4, 1889, was an event of rare fortune to him, the home they maintained being a sanctuary of tender relationships and cordial hospitality. The family remaining consists of the wife and two children, Mrs. Dr. T. G. Smith of Elk Garden, and Charles Keele Steele of Bristol, Tenn. One sister also survives, Mrs. Fannie McCrary of Bristol, Va.

His itinerant ministry of thirty-nine years began in 1903 when he was admitted on trial at Knoxville, Tenn., and included the following charges: Parrottsville, three years; St. Clair four years; Macedonia three years; Strawberry Plains two years; Chilhowie three years; Elk Garden twelve years; Saltville two years; and Glade Spring and Meadow View, where he had begun the second year of a most successful pastorate. The esteem in which he was held is suggested by the fact that his pastoral terms averaged more than four years in length. He served only nine charges in his entire ministry, exclusive of his last appointment, which gave promise of extended duration.

As indicated, Brother Steele was a man of marked spiritual endowment and developed his life along the lines of personal piety and untiring attention to his duties. The chapter on duties of pastors in an early Book of Discipline carried this significant question, "How shall a preacher qualify himself for his charge?" The answer was, "By walking closely with God and having his work greatly at heart." These specifications were a just and graphic discription of him and his useful program of life. With few men have the outward activities in a field of labor been a more genuine expression of the ideals and transactions in the depths of the soul than was true of C. E. Steele. The man and the minister were one and the same.

Those who sat in his congregation characterized him as the preacher of a pure gospel. His sermons were scriptural, serious, sound; with no idle excursions into the realm of speculation or fancy, withal that he was a constant reader of approved books and kept his mind responsive to the currents of thought. He knew the art of holding a revival, of transforming power and abiding consequence; nor did he fail to make provision for such in any year of his ministry. Knowing his people and their spiritual needs better than others, he felt it his duty to be his own evangelist. Within a few months of his passing, he conducted a meeting in one of his churches, the historic Lebanon church, which proved to be memorable in the annals of the community. The congregation was literally recast and its membership doubled.

Brother Steele excelled as a pastor. He had the shepherd heart. Always and everywhere in the bounds of his charge he was among the flock with contacts that carried the flavor of the "upper room." The mansion and the hovel held equal place in his interest, his sympathies being broad and impartial. He overlooked no one. A prominent layman in his last charge told the writer that he had tried for more than a year to introduce his pastor to citizens living in the bounds of his circuit. He never succeeded for the reason that the diligent pastor had already made the acquaintance, and in many instances had established relations of pastoral friendship. That he should hold therefore a place in the affections of those to whom he ministered, and that sentiments of gratitude should be mingled with the sorrow of his going, is both natural and inevitable.

The personal characteristics that were most readily noted in him were his thoughtful demeanor, his unassuming bearing, his kindly spirit and his entire freedom from vanity, envy, impatience and self exploitation. He seemed not to know how to be unjust or uncharitable. To make use of an epigram his outward attitudes were the product of inward beatitudes. He was an Israelite indeed in whom there was no guile. But there was another side to his personality not so easily discerned but none the less real. I refer to the latent strength and courage that lay at the foundation of his nature. Unquesionably there were reserves of character within him which might easily have been translated into the sacrificial and the heroic had occasion required. He was first and last a man of conviction and principle, and no pressure on earth could have caused him to cancel his loyalty to his Lord. Walking closely with God and having his work greatly at heart, these indeed were the credentials of this worthy minister of Christ; and by them his influence will linger to inspire and to bless.

Brother Steele's death was not without beautiful and comforting parallels. It occured at sunset on a lovely Sabbath of the spring time. The day was ending but the fields and hills and trees revealed a landscape of emerging life and verdure. The resurrections of the natural order, manifold and multiform, were visible everywhere. And so it was with him. The sunset hour of his life had come, the serene rest of spirit that comes of faith was there, and just beyond were the glory and the splendor of the life to come. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

BENJAMIN CARNELIN WILSON

Benjamin Carnelin Wilson, son of Rev. Martin V. and Elizabeth Lovelace Wilson, was born in Allen County, Ky., February 8, 1865. Here he spent his boyhood and youth. He was converted in his teens and at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Old Shiloh. His family belonged to this church, his father being a staunch supporter of the same, and also a local preacher. His father's home was the home of the pastor and his family. Many times during the last years of his life, Brother Wilson referred to the impressions made upon him as a small boy when he would sit up late at night listening to the conversation of his father and his pastor, and how his heart rejoiced when he could render some service to the preacher.

His mother who was a sister of the late Henry S. Lovelace of the Louisville Conference, died when Brother Wilson was one and a half years old. When bidding the family good-bye she placed her hand upon the head of her baby boy and prayed God's blessings upon him. He attended high school and college at Franklin, Ky.

He was married to Miss Alberta M. Wilson, of Allen County, Ky., September 6, 1888, Rev. Enoch M. Crowe, father of Dr. John M. Crowe officiating. To this union were born three sons and a daughter; the three sons are living but the daughter died at the age of ten years.

Brother Wilson taught school a number of years in Southern Ky., and Middle Tenn. He said he could not remember when he did not feel the call of God to preach the gospel, but he felt the responsibility so great he hesitated for a number of years. But as the call became more impressive and stronger so much so that he felt "woe is me if I preach not the gospel," the struggle becoming so desperate that he fell to the floor weeping, God gave him the victory, and he was licensed to preach in April, 1907. He joined the Louisville Conference September 29, 1908, the Conference being held that year at Settle Memorial Church, Owensboro, Ky., Bishop A. W. Wilson presiding.

Brother Wilson served in his home Conference until 1914, when he was transferred to the Baltimore Conference, where he did several years of splendid service, coming from the Baltimore Conference to Holston where he did faithful service till the close of his life, which came April 1, 1932.

He was a good man, industrious and zealous of good works. I spent four years on the Evensville charge, my second, and Brother Wilson's last charge. After an absence of twenty odd years, wife and I were passing through Evensville and stopped to visit for a few minutes with Brother Wilson and his family. I found him re-roofing the coal house, but he came down and greeted us cordially and nothing would do but for us to spend the night; we talked until a late hour before retiring. Pleasant memories of that visit still linger. He was loved by my old friends of Evensville Circuit and as we preachers say, "His tracks will long be seen there."

His funeral was conducted in the Southern Methodist Church in Evensville on Monday morning, April 4, by Rev. L. M. Cartright and Rev. C. N. Kennedy of Spring City, and Rev. C. L. Cox, of Dayton. The body was taken to Ooltewah, Tenn., for burial. There in the cemetery, on a shady southern slope, in the presence of many friends, we laid his body to rest until the resurrection.

LAWRENCE WALTON McFARLAND.

Lawrence Walton McFarland, son of Jacob and Darthulah Five McFarland, was born in Tazewell County, Va., October 10, 1895. He died in the George Ben Johnson Memorial Hospital, Abingdon, Va., September 5, 1932. He was stricken with appendicitis during our Pastors' School at Emory, Va., and was immediately taken to the hospital. An operation was performed, which for a time promised to be successful; but this chronic physical condition had taken a too heavy toll, and complications could not be overcome. Everything humanly possible was done by the hospital staff and friends, but the call was too loud and strong.

When only twelve years of age he surrendered his life to our Lord to be used in his holy service. He was early seized with a growing conviction that he should preach the gospel. Some time during the period of his enlistment in the United States Army he answered that call. He did not go to France, but was first at Camp Lee, Va., and later transferred to Camp Humphreys in Iowa. From this camp he received his honorable discharge.

To him the call to preach was a call to preparation. After obtaining his local license he entered Hiwassee College in 1919, in the high school department and finished his Junior College Course in 1924. He was a careful and painstaking student. But his daily life was most enviable. To know him was to love him. It was the writer's happy privilege to room with "Mack" for four and one-half months. He was unusually congenial and most unselfish. He was faithful in the preparation of his subjects and punctual in his private devotional life. No one was more loyal than he in the activities of the college campus. In the fall of 1924 he matriculated in Emory and Henry College, and graduated with the class of '26. Those of us who attended his funeral service at Emory shall never forget the eulogy spoken by Dr. J. N. Hillman. Dr. Hillman paid glowing tribute to the quality of his character and his faithful attendance to college duties.

Brother McFarland was admitted on trial into the Conference in 1925, into full connection in 1927, and ordained Elder in 1929. His first appointment, of course, was to Emory and Henry College as a student. He served the following charges: Fremont and McClure 1926-'30, and Andover and Arno from 1930 until the time of his death. As a pastor he not only fed the flock, but ministered sacrificially in their joys and sorrows.

On June 5, 1928, he was happily married to Miss Hattie Kate Hart, daughter of the late James Henry Hart and Sarah Joan (Hickman) Hart, Gate City, Va. To this union were born three bright boys—Horace Edwin, Cecil Eugene, and Gerald Hart. The home life was sweet. The family-circle is broken only for a little while.

This is the life sketch of a most worthy young man. We are shocked with its brevity. We cannot explain it, but we can appropriate the excellencies of his character. He was in all things a Christian. His life was swayed by holy and mighty convictions and by these convictions he had courage to stand. Eternity alone can reveal what he meant to his home, his Church and his God.

> "We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths,
> In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
> We should count time by heart throbs. He most lives
> Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

His body rests under the shadow of the pines at Emory, Va. It was tenderly committed, on the afternoon of September 6, by Dr. E. E. Wiley, assisted by Dr. P. L. Cobb, Dr. J. N. Hillman, Revs. H. D. Hart, H. G. Holdway, B. T. Sells, H. B. Brown and the writer. His soul is with his Creator and Saviour. The memory of his noble life is our priceless possession.

R. Lake Wright.

MRS. E. W. MORT

No greater blessing has been bestowed on our humanity than the gift of devoted Christian wives and mothers who make home a place of rest, comfort and peace, where love abounds and the atmosphere is holy. Such a home blesses with a heavenly joy all who enter and abide therein. This kind of a home was made and kept by Amanda Virginia Mort. She was born of Christian parents of Methodist faith in Washington County, Va., January 22, 1862, the daughter of John W. and Julia Crabtree Cunningham. We are not surprised that from a child she knew the Lord, and at an early age made public confession of her faith in Him as her Saviour, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

In the providence of God she linked her life with a young man who had heard and responded to God's call to tell the wonderful story of his love. On May 10, 1893, she was married to the Rev. Edward William Mort to become a faithful wife and happy itinerant. To this union were born three children: James R., Supervisor of Schools in Warwick County, Morrison, Va.; Miss Ruby, teacher in the Bristol, Va., High School; and Miss Mary, teacher in the Morrison, Va., High School. The three survive her. She is survived also by one brother, Charles E. Cunningham, of Abingdon, Va., and one sister, Mrs. C. E. Cregger, of Spartanburg, S. C.

With joy Mrs. Mort went with her husband in his beloved ministry, performing the duties of an itinerant preacher's wife and enduring the hardships incident thereto without a word of complaint. Mrs. Mort served with her husband in the pastorate for a period of thirty-one years, in the following charges: Tazewell Circuit, Tenn.; Parrottsville; Tate Spring; Evensville; Kingston; Rich Valley; Blountville; Sevierville; Lead Mines; Bluff City and Abingdon Circuits, in Va. She knew how to make the most of circumstances—how to make a poor parsonage a place of comfort and attraction.

In modesty, and in all the queenly virtues which go to make up one of God's hand-maidens she excelled. Words are feeble in describing the beautiful and consecrated Christian life of this faithful wife, devoted mother and true servant of God. Her religious experience was positive and rich; her faith kept her through all the hard experiences of life and walked with her through the valley of the shadow of death.

After the death of her husband at Abingdon, Va., on March 14, 1923, Mrs. Mort moved to Bristol, Va., where she lived until she slipped out of her tabernacle of flesh and entered the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. On Sunday morning, June 26, 1932, she attended services at State Street Church, where she was a faithful, devoted and honored member during the time of her residence in Bristol. On that beautiful afternoon, seated in the living room of her home, suddenly, though quietly and peacefully as her life had been, her spirit passed through the gates of pearl into that city whose builder and maker is God. I am very sure she had long since heeded the Lord's command: "Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh."

The funeral services were conducted from her late home in Bristol by her pastor, R. N. Havens, assisted by Rev. S. B. Vaught, in the presence of a large and sympathetic congregation. Her mortal remains were taken to Emory, Va., and laid to rest beside her husband on the hill overlooking the college campus.

Robert N. Havens.

MRS. E. H. YANKEE

Sarah Elizabeth Francisco was the daughter of William M. and Kizzie E. Francisco. She was born February 12, 1870, at the old Francisco homestead near Church Hill, Hawkins County, Tennessee. She had one sister and two brothers. The sister Rosa and the brothers H. L. Francisco and Rev. G. T. Francisco, a distinguished minister and member of the Holston Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The two brothers survive her. Sarah, or "Sallie" as she was universally known was born, married and died in the old girlhood home. She was converted early in girlhood and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Mt. Carmel Church near her home. On June 30, 1897, she was married to Rev. E. H. Yankee, at that time a promising young Baptist minister and now an honored member of the Holston Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. From this union there were born two daughters and two sons. The daughters, Lucile and Pearl, preceded mother to the glory world and were waiting to give a glad welcome to mother. The two sons survive her—Paul Francis Yankee, Bluefield, W. Va., and Richard Murrell Yankee, Rome, Ga.

Mrs. Yankee was a cultured, trained, and devoted Christian. As wife of a minister for thirty-five years she successfully and devotedly met all the demands made upon her. Genuinely converted in girlhood she developed a cultured, well-poised and deeply spiritual life. She was devoted to her Saviour. Prayer, the Bible, and the worship services were her joy and the source of real strength. She was intelligently spiritual and Christian. A fine example of the fashioning power of culture, grace and religion. She was a devoted wife and mother. She loved her home. She possessed the charm of a gracious hostess. Into the portal any one could come and find a haven of rest and comfort. That inner circle will deeply miss her grace and charm.

For months Mrs. Yankee had been in declining health and had suffered. It was a blessed relief when on July 22, 1932, she passed peacefully on to her reward. The funeral was conducted at Mt. Carmel Church, July 24, by C. T. Tally, assisted by H. S. Hamilton and Dr. King of the Presbyterian Church and a life long friend. "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

C. T. Tally.

EDITORIAL WORD

Mr. J. W. Lantz, an unselfish layman, of Cedar Springs, Va., at the head of a committee appointed by the Holston Conference, is doing fine service in looking after the physical part of the HOLSTON ANNUAL. All orders for copies of this edition should be sent to him. All monies for copies sold should be sent to the First National Bank of Chattanooga—our Conference Treasurer.

Although the featuring of reports in statistical tables from each church on circuits and missions adds materially to the cost of the edition, the price of the ANNUAL is half what it was formerly. To keep down this price to 25 cents per copy it is necessary to sell the entire edition of 5,000 copies, and to collect and remit for same. This can not be done through perfunctory efforts. Our preachers in charge will have to put practical and persistent push into the sales. To place a bundle of ANNUALS on a table, and ask those who want a copy to come up, get one, and leave the money, is to fail in the sale. Try some other plan: hold up a copy; tell what is in it; speak of the pictures; explain the value of a Holston book of reference for the entire year; explain about each church on a circuit being represented in the records; show the vital necessity of printed Minutes, which must pay its way if it would stay. Do all this with "pep." Presto, something is sure to happen.

Statistical secretaries and printers have worked hard to get accurate statistics, but some errors need not amaze anybody.

A photograph of Rev. L. W. McFarland, deceased, came too late to get in the group-picture of those who died during the year. The memoir of Mrs. A. H. Clark did not come to the Secretary.

The Editor has been glad to work hard, and will welcome every cooperative effort to help in a cause which is obliged to go.
